

Competition for 4 board posts in GC and Madison

Opposition for two school board seats in the Granite City school district and for two board memberships in the Madison school district developed Friday as the filing period for the April 8 school elections ended.

Petitions of candidacy were accepted in the offices of the three Quad-City school districts — Granite City, Madison and Venice — until 4 p.m. Friday.

In Venice School District 3 there is no opposition for two regular three-year terms and a one-year unexpired term. Incumbents in those three posts were the only candidates to file. Opposition for the two board seats in Granite City School District 9 came from David Partney and George F. Crews, both of Granite City, who filed petitions on the final day of filing.

They will oppose the two incumbent board members, L. Monroe Worthen and Thomas G. Miosky who are seeking re-election. Miosky is now president of the School Board. In the Madison district, Paul Bargiel, a detective on the Madison Police Department, will be opposed for election to a one-year unexpired term. David Miskelly, now serving the unexpired term by appointment, did not file as a candidate for the remaining year of that term.

Two incumbents, Richard Zeisset and Elvers Johnson are seeking re-election, but they are opposed for one of the seats by Mrs. Billie School Board. Venice School Board incumbents John Boushard and Jerry Cicio are seeking re-election to full three-year terms, while George Wade has filed as a candidate to fill the one-year unexpired term. Wade is now serving in the unexpired term by appointment.

Egg hunt planned

The Granite City Park District will stage its annual Easter egg hunt, starting at 9 a.m. Saturday, when preschoolers through first grade youngsters will search for 2,500 colorful plastic eggs filled with candy. As in previous years, the hunt is scheduled to take place in the Wilson Park ice rink pavilion, with children of three different age levels seeking the candy eggs at separate times.

Harold Brown, park district superintendent, said today a problem may be encountered this year with Easter falling at an earlier date than usual. Due to continuing inclement weather, it is possible the ice may not be melted on the rink surface sufficiently, to enable the children hunt for the eggs, the park officer noted.

votes are being urged in Alton by McPike backers, in Edwardsville by Lucco partisans and in the Quad-Cities by those who favor Wolf. The three are pictured at a Granite City Democratic Club candidate forum.

Keen local interest in county voting tomorrow

Between 35,000 and 40,000 voters are expected to go to the polls in this year's primary elections Tuesday, but the actual turnout will depend greatly upon the weather. County Clerk Evelyn Bowles predicted today.

Based on balloting in the March 1976 primary, about 17,000 of the estimated total vote tomorrow is expected to be cast in the four townships of the Quad-City area.

If a near-normal voting turnout occurs, Miss Bowles said, it would represent 31 percent of this year's total registration of 129,384 which is slightly less than the 1976 vote registration of 131,067.

Spirited campaigns in the Democratic races for sheriff and treasurer at the county level, and for state representative and state senator in the 56th legislative district are expected to bring out a better than usual primary vote.

In 1976, the primary vote in Madison County reached 48,655, but that heavier vote resulted because a presidential election was involved. Of the total 1976 primary vote, 17,065 were cast in the four Quad-City townships. These included 16,668 Democratic ballots and 1,017 Republican ballots.

Voters will ballot this year in 223 precincts in Madison County, 67 of them in the Quad-Cities. In the 1976 primary voters balloted at 197 sites, 61 of them Quad-City polling places.

New registration figures show a total of 37,476 qualified voters in the Quad-Cities, including 20,156 registered in Granite City, 6,861 in Namekiki Township, 6,056 in Venice Township and 4,403 in Chouteau Township. This is an increase of 1,244 over the 1976 primary registration of 36,232.

Polling places throughout the Quad-Cities and the county will open at 6 a.m. tomorrow, and will close at 6 p.m. Vote results will be taken to the county clerk's office after they are tallied at the precinct polling places.

At the county level, the campaign for the Democratic sheriff nomination has highlighted this year's election. Five candidates are seeking the nomination, including Donald E. Vaughn of Granite City, Emil J. Tofant of Alton, Michael R. Vincent of Granite City, Edward "Big Ed" Voumar of Alton and James L. Estes of Chouteau township, whose names are on the ballot at that order.

Miss Evelyn Bowles, incumbent county clerk, is opposed for re-nomination on the Democratic ballot.

For county treasurer, two candidates are seeking the post. Michael S. "Mick" Henkhaus of Bethalto and J. H. Augustine of Litchfield.

Two candidates also are seeking the nomination as regional superintendent of schools. They are incumbent Harold "Gene" Briggs of Namekiki Township and Vasil Etimoff of Granite City.

Seeking nomination as circuit judge on the Democratic ballot are William E. "Bill" Johnson of Edwardsville and Andy Matcossian of Granite City, incumbent.

Only one candidate for sheriff, Robert Bibby of Troy, is on the Republican ballot for nomination of county officers, while Gerald B. Cohn of Bethalto and R. W. Griffith Jr. of Alton are seeking the GOP nomination as circuit judge of the Third Judicial Circuit.

There are no Republican candidates for county clerk, county treasurer or regional school superintendent.

The Democratic campaign also is marked by heated contests for two nominations as state representative. Seeking the two nominations are Joe E. Lucco of Edwardsville; incumbent, Jim McPike of Alton, incumbent, Sam W. Wolf of Granite City and Joan Seamen, Collinsville.

On the Republican ballot, incumbent state Rep. Everett G. Steele of Glen Carbon and Janet Wilson of Granite City are opposed for the two 56th state representative nominations.

Three candidates are seeking nomination as state senator on the Democratic ballot. They are incumbent Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville, Steve Maragides of Madison and Dan O'Neill of Alton.

There are no Republican candidates for state senator. In the 23rd congressional district race, incumbent Melvin Price of East St. Louis, seeking his 18th consecutive term, is opposed by Sam Drenovac of Chouteau Township.

Seeking the Republican nomination as congressman are Daniel J. Slack of Collinsville and Hugh L. Enyart of Belleville.

James F. Chapman of Collinsville is the only candidate on the ballot for election as state central committeeman of the 23rd congressional (Continued on Page 12)

Wolf seeking to return to legislature

With legislative careers on the line, rivalry for General Assembly positions has begun to generate fireworks.

The two key Democratic House nominations will be decided—along with many other races—in tomorrow's primary balloting in the 56th Legislative District, in Madison County, in the 23rd Congressional District and statewide.

Seeking state representative nomination are former Rep. Sam W. Wolf, Granite City realtor, one-term Rep. Jim McPike of Alton, two-term Rep. Joe E. Lucco of Edwardsville and Mrs. Joan Seamen, an Edwardsville teacher.

Wolf and Lucco hold Democratic Executive Committee endorsements, and McPike enjoys broad independent support.

Many backers are urging three-vote support for their candidates, and it also is possible to cast one-and-a-half-votes for each of two House aspirants.

MRS. JOAN SEAMEN

A major point being made by Wolf enthusiasts is that the Edwardsville area fills three of the four House-Senate seats, while the populous Quad-Cities have no local resident in the legislature.

There is wide dissatisfaction (Continued on Page 12)

Sparks would stay as member of board

Walter "Dick" Sparks, seeking re-election to the Madison County Board in District 16, said during the weekend that if nominated and elected he would serve the entire four-year term.

"I consider the sewer installation project too important to even consider not remaining on the board. I'll serve the full term," Sparks said in refuting rumors to the contrary.

Meanwhile, his opponent in the Democratic primary tomorrow said he would do everything to block Sparks' re-election.

Miles said he feels it should be of major concern to voters that Sparks holds both the Chouteau supervisor and County Board positions, a dual role that will be banned as of December 1978 unless the law is revised between now and then.

"All my contacts with legislators indicate it is unlikely that a new law will be passed this year on county board membership by supervisors," Miles said.

Sparks said a new law is a possibility, but that — if necessary to avoid a conflict — he would resign as supervisor and remain on the County Board.

Miles added that he would view it as his duty as a board member to reflect in his voting the wishes of the majority of citizens on all issues.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING of Involvement and Management Advance Growth and Employment (IMAGE) is signed Thursday afternoon by Stanley Garst, right, of Granite City Steel, representing the owner's committee of the Council of Contractor Associations. Image is made up of various sectors of the building and construction community which includes contractors, builders, owners, architects, engineers and the Southern Illinois Building and Construction Trades Council. ## Opposition for Dan Stack in GOP Congress race

Seeking the Republican nomination for Congress in the 23rd District are Hugh Enyart of O'Fallon and Dan Stack, a Granite City area attorney.

Stack, 28, had been employed in the United States Attorney's Office, Eastern District of Illinois, at East St. Louis, until resigning to announce his candidacy.

Receiving his doctor of laws degree from the Law School of St. Louis University, he had earned a bachelor of arts degree from Benedictine College, Atchison, Kan., after transferring from Belleville Area College.

He is a graduate of Assumption High School, East St. Louis. Working his way through high school, college and law school in a large variety of jobs — including steel mills, trucking docks, department stores, restaurants and the Army Reserve — Stack has also served as deputy clerk of the Circuit Court of Madison County and special research clerk for the chief circuit judge of Madison County.

He served his legal internship in the Granite City law firm of Laeders, Robertson and Konzen.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stack Sr., both lifelong residents of Granite City with the exception of the last four years when they moved to Highland, Dan Stack is the grandson of Joseph and Minnie Grob and the brother of Kathy Welch and James E. Stack Jr., all of Granite City.

He is active in civic affairs, having served as treasurer of the Tri-City Knights of Columbus, Shriner's annual dinner for children.

He participated in the Pro-Life Committee, the Quad-Cities Ecumenical Youth Council and the Granite City Diamond Jubilee Celebration, among other programs.

Straight talk

(about checking account packages.)

Ever wondered about checking account packages? What they are, what they do, whether they're valuable to you and customers? Well, we want to try to answer some of your questions and to tell you why we think our package, The Club, is the best there is. A checking account package is a group of bank services offered as a unit for a flat monthly fee to a bank's checking customers. The bank increases use of its services; customers get more services at a lower rate than the cost of the services purchased separately.

Package accounts are very often the best buy for the checking customer. Most packages eliminate variable service charges and offer unlimited check writing privileges and personal deposit checks at no extra charge. Savings available on other services can be considerable.

Okay, now you've got a good idea of the basic garden-variety checking account package. How is

The Club better or different? Well, some, but not all, package accounts offer accidental death insurance as a member benefit. With a standard membership, The Club gives each member $10,000 in accidental death insurance. Additional coverage is also available.

And our discounts make a difference. Most checking packages offer some discounts, but The Club offers national discounts with major hotel chains and car rental companies and big savings on other items, too. In fact, we don't know of any other package account that can match The Club for discounts, and there are periodic new discounts.

That's it. Checking account packages are generally good buys. The Club is an especially good value. And it can be yours — all for only $3 a month.

Join The Club today.
 It's more than a checking account,

Speed primary cause of traffic deaths

The slogan "speed kills" has become something of a cliché, but statistics on traffic accidents "indicate that speed is still a major cause of traffic deaths," said Capt. Albert Bertagnoli, commander of district 11, Illinois state police, said today.

Speeding magnifies the effects of all driving errors, vehicles are more difficult to control at higher speeds and stopping distances are greatly increased, he said.

Speed increases both the risk of injury and the severity of injuries sustained. The probability of a fatality in a crash roughly doubles as traveling speed increases from 45 to 60 mph, the captain added.

Child abuse information available

Mrs. Sonya Adkerson, a counselor at Granite City High School South, is now available as a resource person in the community for information and issues involving identifying and reporting child abuse and neglect.

Mrs. Adkerson has received special training from the Illinois Office of Education in this area.

The latest statistics on child abuse issued by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services show that there has been an increase of 30.5 percent in reports of child abuse and neglect from 1976 to 1977, and that schools reported 4.3 percent more during November 1977 than were reported in November 1976.

For further information on child abuse and neglect in this community, and on reporting it through the schools, Quad-City residents may contact Mrs. Adkerson.

During the first two months of 1978, Illinois had 103 rural fatalities, a decrease of two for the same period of 1977. In District 11, which covers a nine-county area, there were only eight rural fatalities during the first two months of 1978.

During the year 1977, Illinois showed a reduction of 24 rural fatalities. The reduced number of rural accidents in District 11 accounted for 19 of these 24 less fatalities.

Figures released by Captain Bertagnoli indicate that during the first two months of 1978, troopers in District 11 had 3,333 contacts for speed violations. Captain Bertagnoli said that strict enforcement and voluntary compliance of the 55 mph speed limit will have a substantial effect in further reducing fatal accidents. Motorists also should wear seat or shelter belts, the commander added.

Statistics released by Bertagnoli showed that Madison County was second only to St. Clair County in the number of traffic fatalities during 1977. Seventy-seven persons died in St. Clair County accidents during the year, while 62 persons were fatally injured in Madison County.

During January and February this year, St. Clair County has had ten fatalities and Madison County six, the report showed.

Whitsell in 3-way race in County Board District 26

In District 26 of the Madison County Board, incumbent Louis Whitsell, 3 Westgate Drive, has two opponents for tomorrow's Democratic primary nomination.

They are Helen M. Hawkins, 2600 Angela Drive, and Arthur L. Theis, 2200 Arnold Drive.

A past Nameoki Township clerk and supervisor, Whitsell ran for state representative two years ago.

He has served two terms on the Madison County Board. A lifelong local resident, he served two terms as a Democratic committeeman.

He has served as first vice-president of Retail Clerks Local 435, and a member of the Lodge 688 Machinists, Masonic Lodge 877 and Teamsters Local 525.

He was chairman of the Madison County Bicentennial Commission and has been a member of the Township Officials of Illinois, Illinois Association of County Board Members and Illinois Welfare Association.

He served in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve from 1954 to 1964. He is married and has five daughters.

He comments, "I have experience as a county and township official with a thorough knowledge of all procedures, plus a genuine and sincere desire to serve the public. In seeking another term of office, I wish to utilize this experience."

"I personally helped bring Nameoki Township from an ineffective operation that experienced financial problems, to a strong, thriving unit of local government — by encouraging citizen participation, by sound business management through investments of idle funds, and by paying close attention to state and federal grants."

"We were able to accomplish many programs that no other township in this state had attempted before — and, at the same time, to reduce township taxes, even though other local taxes have continued to rise."

Projects in which Whitsell was influential included Maryville School crossing lights, sidewalks connecting with Granite City High School North, provision for sanitary sewers, upgrading of land use and subdivision controls.

LOUIS WHITSELL

MRS. HELEN HAWKINS

ARTHUR THEIS

In addition, Dobrey Slough area improvements, environmental clean-up programs, establishment of county parks and a nature trail, arrangements for funding of fire hydrants, Dawn Avenue drainage repair, drainage pumps, work programs for public aid recipients, opposition to assessment policies.

Also, modernization of the mosquito abatement program, upgrading of animal control through provision of a holding pen and modern trail, arrangements for Horseshoe Lake automatic gates and acquisition of Army surplus equipment.

A Granite City High School graduate, Whitsell attended SIU and Hadley Tech and has held membership in the American Legion, Amvets and Pontoon Beach Lions.

During his County Board service, he has been active on the Executive, Land Use, Sewer, Building, Zoning and Subdivision committees and has headed the Education and Recreation Committee.

This, a lifelong area resident, has lived in Nameoki Township since 1972. He attended the Niedringhaus and Central schools, Granite City High School, Washington University and SIUE. Honorably discharged from the Army, he is a member of American Legion Post 113, Eagles Aerie 1126 and the Granite City Democratic Club.

This has worked for the past ten years as a general foreman and supervisor.

Democratic committeeman of Nameoki Precinct 11, he is treasurer and member of the board of trustees of the Long Lake fire protection district. He serves on the Nameoki Township community development committee.

This has opposed the county township sanitary sewer installation program on the basis that there was no election on the proposal.

He has pledged to "work in harmony with other board members and officials" and would "strive to provide equal service to all people."

Mrs. Hawkins resides here with her husband, Dr. Hubert A. Hawkins, an optometrist, and their two children, Debra and Mark.

She has resided in Nameoki Township for 13 years and she and her husband have been married for 20 years. She was born in Detroit and attended schools in Detroit and Chicago.

Mrs. Hawkins was elected in 1974 as Democratic committeeman of Precinct Five and re-elected in 1976. She also was elected secretary-treasurer of Nameoki executive committeemen and is a volunteer Madison County deputy registrar.

Electing in 1975 as secretary of the former Truth & Action Citizens Committee, she serves in such posts without pay.

She received more votes in the 1977 township election for trustee than did an opponent but was denied the seat due to a technicality.

She was twice awarded a certificate of appreciation from township government.

She is a member of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Women's Division and serves on the Chamber's drainage committee.

As a charter member of Granite City Democrats, she is a volunteer member of the Nameoki and Pontoon Beach Home Improvement Program.

In 1972, Mrs. Hawkins was appointed by then Republican Governor Richard B. Ogilvie to help study possible boundary changes affecting the old East Side Levee and Sanitary District. In 1974, she supported a move to replace the levee district with the Metro-East Sanitary District.

She is a member of the Women of the Moose, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113, where she has received certificates of appreciation and recognition for participation in veterans' activities.

"I feel the single most pressing problems facing the county today is financial, but this is true for all levels of government. Other than being a watch dog always willing to cut waste when at hand, I cannot promise a panacea for the problems," she comments.

"I intend to continue to stress wise flood control, land usage, and strict enforcement of building codes to prevent flooding in already existing residences, such as requiring no basements in low-lying areas."

"In federal revenue-sharing programs, I feel the money that comes to the taxpayers is their money in the first place, minus what has been lost as the federal government processes it."

"However, since this is the system they have devised and egg county board member cannot change it, I would advocate that this money not be looked on as a gift to spend for luxuries — parks, more grandiose government structures, etc. — but instead be put in the general fund to prevent a property tax increase."

"While I favor recreational developments in the county, I feel they are not to be put ahead of more vital services, such as law enforcement, health care, senior citizens programs, drainage, etc."

"When it comes to voting on contracts, I believe the board should consider all bids carefully and be well informed on what they are voting for or against, with the people's welfare uppermost on their minds. It is these same people that put one in office."

"I oppose special taxing districts without a referendum. The law required petitions signed by 50 percent of the land owners and registered voters to defeat special tax districts."

"Use of this law has raised a furor in Madison County."

"Residents opposing the backdoor-type referendum feel the law provides taxation without representation."

"The Madison County sanitary sewer project is planned under special service district law. If elected, I would cast my one vote against any projects planned under this law."

"I am an active supporter of an open primary. I will petition for submission of the question to the electors of Illinois."

Some veterans may resume GI schooling

If certain health problems prevented veterans from beginning or completing their education under the GI Bill, a new law may make it possible for them to turn back the clock and enroll again, VA regional office director Donald Ramsey of Chicago has announced.

The new program is available to veterans, spouses or surviving spouses whose eligibility for GI Bill education benefits expired on June 1, 1976, or later, but who had not used all their schooling entitlement when mental or physical disability interfered with their training.

The disability must not have resulted from the individual's willful misconduct, Ramsey emphasized. He cautioned potential applicants they must provide medical evidence that mental illness or physical disability was responsible for their being unable to begin or complete schooling before the expiration of their GI Bill eligibility.

Under the law, veterans have to years from the date of their discharge from active duty to complete GI Bill training. Spouses or surviving spouses have to years from the date of their initial eligibility to complete training under the bill.

Until passage of the new law, those who had not used all their GI Bill education benefits by the end of that ten-year period lost it forever.

"This law," the director said, "gives us a welcome opportunity to help veterans and their families who had their education delayed or interrupted because of circumstances beyond their control."

Any extension approved will be for the length of time VA determines the veteran or spouse was prevented from beginning or completing the education program.

The VA doesn't know the number of potential eligibles, but the VA official urged veterans or spouses who believe they qualify for the new program to avoid possible disappointment by making certain they have the necessary medical evidence in connection with their application.

Further information on the program may be obtained at the VA regional office or through Disabled American Veterans service officers.

To the Editor:

I hope the citizens of Madison County will wake up before it is too late and vote for a judge who refuses to be controlled by vested interests.

The attorneys will endorse a candidate who would

"represent" their ideas in the courts. Their job is to win a "not guilty" verdict or a lesser sentence for a person charged with committing a crime.

I hope the people see what is happening in the judicial process, for it is the people who will lose if we let the lawyers take away this most sacred principle of all the courts.

Urged all the people to vote for Judge Wm. "Bill" Johnson in the March primary election.

News notes

The U.S. House passed 257-152

Thursday the Humphrey-Hawkins bill. If passed by the Senate and signed into law, it would set a national jobs goal of four percent or less by 1983.

Its other goals would be 100 percent farm parity, balanced governmental budgets, reduced inflation and alternate energy and transportation technologies.

U.S. District Judge Alfred Kilarney ruled at Chicago Friday that Illinois can enforce — for the time being — a law banning welfare payments for abortions that aren't needed to save a woman's life. He will rule in ten days whether to hold a hearing on a suit seeking to block enforcement of the Dec. 15 state law.

An injunction was granted late Thursday by U.S. District Judge Roy Harper, enjoining the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency from enforcing clean air rules against Union Electric Co. while the utility is "actively and in good faith" pursuing a variance on sulfur dioxide emissions. UE must post a $500,000 bond to pay EPA costs and damages if the agency is later found to have been wrongfully restrained. UE had warned it might have to shut down its LaBadie and Portage Des Sioux power plants, which are blamed for sending air pollution into Illinois.

Vanguard 500 demonstrated at Kiwanis

Vanguard 500, a machine that measures pulmonary capacity and gives a basic idea as to how the lung system in the human body is working was demonstrated to the breakfast Kiwanis Thursday.

Guests at the Kiwanis meeting Thursday, held in the Phipps Board Restaurant, were Michael Range, director of respiratory therapy, and Rick Bargiel, clinical instructor for respiratory therapy at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

In addition to demonstrating the machine, the men discussed the lungs, how they function and problems related to breathing.

Two basic classes of problems are obstructive and restrictive in regard to breathing, they said.

The men noted that emphysema can be stopped but not corrected.

Six members of the Wood River Township Kiwanis club were present at Thursday's meeting.

The club plans to hold the annual "hole-in-one" golf tournament in May.

Task force to study nursing facility need

James R. "Bud" Washburn, director of the Department of Veterans' Affairs has announced the formation of a Nursing Home Study Task Force made up of representatives of 12 of the state veterans organizations and chaired by Walter Kesselman, assistant director of the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

The two purposes of the task force are to determine the need for additional nursing facilities for Illinois Veterans, and to make recommendations on locations of such facilities, if the need is established.

Washburn stated, "In the past three years, we have received several proposals for the construction of new state nursing facilities. The purpose of this task force is to systematically evaluate these proposals."

"The establishment of this task force is a result of the recommendations of the department's State Commanders' Advisory Committee and is an example of the unity of all state veterans' organizations in achieving the goal of providing the best possible services to our Illinois veterans," Washburn concluded.

Connie Popmarkoff and Michelle McAmish, clarinet trio; Philip Hogan and David Oyen, clarinet duet; and Danny McCommis, Rene Byterski, Mike Abbott and Walter Lancaster, cornet duets.

Accompanists for the band members were Mrs. William Oyen, Jennifer Gaurner, Melissa Groves and Janette Stacy.

Maryville and Parkway band students, directed by Miss Vivian Raffaele, earning ratings at the contest, include:

Parkview School—first ratings were won by soloists, Debbie Brooks, flute, and Mike Novich and John Abrams, cornet. Second ratings were given to soloists, Nancy Dimitroff, flute; Bruce Hopke, alto saxophone and David Menendez, French horn. Parkway ensembles, all receiving first ratings, consisted of Nancy Dimitroff, Lisa Jones and Angela Pinkston, flute trio; John Abrams, Mike Novich and Greg Roberts, cornet trio.

An ensemble achieving a first rating was a clarinet quartet, consisting of Darren Bernaix, Lisa Harrell, Laura Hay and Laura Imboden.

Accompanists for this group of pupils were Julie Hay, Karla Stawar, Terri Counts, Kendall Whittington and Karen Abrams.

Dan Vizer to present recital on March 27

Dan Vizer, Granite City pianist, will present works of Bach, Mozart, Schubert, Chopin and Prokofiev at a junior recital scheduled Monday, March 27, at 8:15 p.m. in the Lovejoy Library auditorium at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The recital is open to the public.

He began study at the age of 11 with Mrs. Orianna Macdonald of Philadelphia, Pa., formerly owner of St. Cecilia's Music Studio in Granite City. "I am very grateful that I had the opportunity to study music with the Macdonalds. They supplied me with a great foundation that I continue to build upon each day," Vizer said. He also studied organ with Donald Macdonald.

During his high school years, Vizer began studying with Aeree Kim, a talented Korean pianist who was here studying with Ruth Slenczynska, artist-in-residence at SIUE. She is at the present time pursuing another degree at Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

Near the beginning of his freshman year at SIUE he was accepted as a private student of Ruth Slenczynska. During her sabbatical, the local resident studied with Dr. Marion Lampe. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Vizer, 2740 State St., he also serves as organist at the Granite City Army Installation and at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church.

Spring is near; get ready for 'sun week'

Illinois Sun Week May 1 to 7 got a $10,000 boost from state government. It was reported Tuesday by the Division of Energy, Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, and the Institute for Environmental Quality.

Illinois Sun Week will focus both on the existing and the future potential of solar energy applications, and will include activities related to observance of national Sun Day, May 3.

The Illinois League of Women Voters has been chosen to coordinate the state's Sun Week activities. The $10,000 contract was awarded to the ILWV to help Judy Heck, director of Sun Week activities, provide planning recommendations for community Sun Week programs.

The league will also provide Sun Week materials related to technical, economic and institutional aspects of using solar energy in Illinois.

The Division of Energy, in conjunction with the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality, has joined in the national celebration of Sun Day, according to Michael Edwards, manager of the Alternative Energy Section of the Division of Energy.

The section is engaged in promotion and implementation of renewable energy resources projects throughout the state. Renewable resources, such as solar, biomass and waste energy resources, may offset projected shortages of more conventional energy forms, such as natural gas and other petroleum derived products, Edwards believes.

Solar fairs, general solar information seminars, school programs, exhibits and tours of solar installations now existing in the state are proposed.

New jail-work program

The Madison County Board has agreed to allow the county to participate in a public service employment program where youths and young adults convicted of crimes can agree to work for the county without pay, rather than spend the same time in jail, if the judge allows that choice as part of their sentences.

Anyone 15-years-of-age or older who is sentenced to a correctional institution can be offered a choice whether to serve the jail sentence or to work cleaning up parks or doing other work for the county during the days and return home at night.

County Board Member James Heil of Alton said the program is new in Illinois, but has been used effectively with juvenile offenders in Memphis, Tenn. The program is designed for the non-serious offender, particularly first-time offenders. Board Member D. W. McLean said he supports the program which offers an alternate to jail. "Once we put these youngsters behind bars, they are done for. I don't know what they need other than rehabilitation—it just doesn't work," he contended.

Heil noted the program will help the taxpayer, not only by offering free labor on county projects, but by saving the $14,000 per year it costs to incarcerate a prisoner. There was a question whether youths or adults would be willing to work without pay and Heil answered, "We are giving them the choice whether to spend the time in jail without pay or to spend it outside working without pay." He noted it is designed primarily for youths who live at home and do not require money to feed themselves or their families.

Assistant State's Attorney Don Smith also noted the county does not even have to pay workmen's compensation or other benefits to the youths in the program. "If they are not paid, they are not our employees and they do not get benefits," he said.

A study of the program outlined by the youths sentenced to the program will have to purchase their own hard-hats and the county will have to hire supervisors.

The board also read a letter from the Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice Levee District objecting to a U.S. Corps of Engineers plan to divert additional water from Lake Michigan into the Chicago River. The district fears the action will aggravate high ground-water and flooding problems in Southern Illinois, particularly on Chouteau Island.

Members of the board's health and welfare committee requested copies of the letter so they can study the problem and decide if the county also should go on record as opposing the state plan.

The board went on record as opposing a Missouri plan to allow higher sulphur dioxide emissions from two power plants in that state, noting it could have an adverse effect on the air in Madison County. The county's environmental committee sent a letter to that effect to the Missouri Public Service Commission prior to a March 2 public hearing. A tornado warning system for the city of Madison also was approved by the board. The project is being planned by county Civil Defense, the central services committee and the public welfare committee.

Planned is a tornado warning siren near the Madison Recreation Center. Currently the fire whistle is used, causing confusion whether the emergency is a tornado or a fire.

Held over was a proposed ordinance assuring that mechanics and laborers on county projects will receive the prevailing union wage. The ordinance applies to all county contracts in excess of $1,000 and authorizes the county to withhold a sufficient amount of the contract total to pay the difference between the union rates and the rates the mechanics or laborers are being paid by the contractor or subcontractor.

The ordinance was submitted at the request of Board Member Daniel Partney of Granite City, but Heil, who is chairman of the legislative committee, said his committee is studying the document and noted, "Indications are we are not going to need that."

Partney recommended the board accept an offer by CONRAIL Corp., which took over the Penn-Central tracks, to pay 75 percent of the taxes owed the county on its tracks and rights-of-way for 1978.

Partney said the agreement seems fair, because CONRAIL owned the tracks 75 percent of the fiscal year and Penn-Central remains responsible for the other 25 percent. The county hopes to collect more when Penn-Central bankruptcy proceedings conclude.

Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City noted he has received telephone calls from all over the county commending the highway department on its snow removal work. "I would like to congratulate the county superintendent of highways, Lester Miller, and all highway employees for a job well done," he stated.

The board agreed to seek bids on the purchase or rental of several pieces of computer equipment, including a computer screen and keypunch machines, and to accept bids on some old computer equipment.

It also will seek bids for 72 half-lockers for the county jail, for a dishwasher at the detention home, and for plastering three ceilings and walls at the historical museum. Erb Equipment Co. of Mitchell was selected to provide a nine-ton low-bed trailer for the parks department, as the lowest bidder on the trailer.

Robt. Colgan dies at 69

Robert L. Colgan, 69, a resident of Madison and Granite City for the past 30 years, died at 3 a.m. Saturday at John DeBoer Veterans Hospital, St. Louis, where he had been a patient several months.

Mr. Colgan was born in Fairfield, Ill., and lived in East St. Louis before moving to this area.

He was a driver for a St. Louis taxicab firm, was a veteran of World War II and a member of St. Mary's Boosters. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John (Mary Lou) Thrasher of St. Charles, Mo., and sisters Miss Elma Colgan and Mrs. Louise Sedlak, both of Granite City. A sister, the late Mrs. Myrtle Gagon of Belleville, preceded him in death.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Three hurt in Rt. 35 crash

Three men were injured when the auto of Raymond E. Wasek, 32, Godfrey, and Michael E. Fears, 26, of 2838 Nameoki Road, collided at Route 111 and State Aid Rd. Route 35 at 3:10 a.m. Sunday.

Both drivers and Francis J. Clark Jr., 26, 3225 Davis Ave., a passenger in Fears' auto, were injured and were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where all were admitted.

Witnesses said Fears' auto was westbound on State Aid Route 35 and Wasek's car was northbound on Route 111 when they collided. Wasek's auto knocked down a light standard at the northwest corner and continued 216 feet before coming to a stop, authorities said.

Wasek was the most seriously injured and was admitted to the hospital's intensive care unit with fractures of the right arm, a broken collar bone, multiple cuts, including a large cut to the right side of his neck, and other injuries. His condition was reported stable this morning.

Fears suffered cuts to his head and abrasions to his right hip, right hand, left arm and both knees and ankles and other injuries. He was in satisfactory condition today.

Clark was expected to be released today from the hospital where he was treated for abrasions to his left knee, jaw and forehead, which struck the car's dashboard.

Treat 3 after Madison mishap

Three persons were injured at 3:50 p.m. Friday when cars driven by Harriet Sanders, 492 Kirkpatrick, Homewood, and Frankie J. Ledford, 2901 Marshall Ave., collided at 12th Street and Madison Ave., Madison.

Police said the accident occurred as Ledford's car was making a left turn from Madison Avenue into 12th Street, colliding with the northbound Sanders car.

Harriet Sanders was examined, X-rayed and released at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Two passengers in her car, Charlene King, 11, and Carle Kile, 201 Rhodes St., also was treated for minor injuries and released.

Home damaged, charges filed

Charles A. Moore, 23, Caseyville, was charged with criminal damage and criminal trespass to property after he allegedly damaged the home of his former wife, Vicki Moore, 2917 Denver St., at 9:40 p.m. Sunday.

Police were told someone had entered the mobile home and was acting suspicious, so officers responded and found a station wagon in the driveway with its engine running.

Bangs and the sounds of glass breaking could be heard inside the home and police looked in a window to see a man throwing furniture. It was alleged. Officers entered and arrested the man without incident. The man said he was mad at his former wife, so he was ransacking her home, officers related. Mrs. Moore arrived during the arrest and agreed to sign complaints against her former husband.

Cycle-auto crash

Bruce Bromley, 25, of 2250 Iowa St., was injured when his eastbound motorcycle and the southbound auto of Brenda Will, 26 Parktowne West Mobile Home Park, collided at 25th and Adams streets at 3:05 p.m. Thursday.

Bromley landed on the hood of the car and twisted his left leg. He went to St. Elizabeth Hospital where cuts and abrasions to his right hand and wrist and injuries to his left shoulder, ankle and knee and to his right thigh were treated. Sutures and X-rays were administered and he was released.

Sanitary district pump operators back on jobs

All pump operators and some laborers were back on their jobs in seven pumping stations of the Metro-East Sanitary District today as a rising Mississippi river stage made pumping operations necessary to avert flooding in parts of the district.

Pump operators were called back from layoffs last week when the thawing of ice and snow sent the river rising at a rapid pace, according to Russell Robinson of Granite City, president of the district board. Robinson said four laborers also were recalled to their jobs Thursday and that Madison County had provided four Manpower employees to assist in flood control work.

All of the men are working on a deferred payment basis with the understanding they will receive paychecks when funds become available, Robinson added. He said the district has about $100,000 coming from St. Clair County taxes and that this money is expected to be received prior to April 15.

The funds will be used to take care of payrolls that have been incurred since the district ran out of money a month ago, resulting in the layoff of more than 60 workers on the operational and clerical staffs of the sanitary district.

The river stage rose to 22.3 feet today. Requirements of the Army Corps of Engineers call for at least one pump operator on duty at the district's seven pumping stations during each shift when the river reaches 19 feet. The Mississippi flood stage is 30 feet.

The board in a meeting last week approved a resolution authorizing the sale of $600,000 worth of tax anticipation warrants, although Robinson said he is doubtful any bank will loan money to the district pending court litigation over the fifth membership on the district board.

The action was taken to meet legal requirements in an effort by the district to raise operating funds at a time when the district faces serious financial problems.

Russell Robinson of Granite City, board president, has said he is certain that the banks will lend no funds on tax warrants pending court litigation over the fifth seat on the board of trustees is settled.

However, Robinson, along with Walter "Shang" Greathouse of Granite City and Leonard Hylla of Madison, agreed to proceed with the legal requirements for selling tax warrants at the urging of A. Wendell Wheadon, executive director of the district.

In recent meetings involving a controversy over extensive employee layoffs because of a lack of funds, Wheadon pointed out that the board had not passed a resolution authorizing the sale of warrants. He said he believed the action should be taken to put the district in compliance with the requirements for borrowing money through the sale of warrants.

Wheadon also has been authorized to seek emergency aid from state and federal sources. He has written Gov. James Thompson asking state aid, but said today that he has received no response from the governor at this time.

Cars damaged by gunshots

hit him and threatened he would take care of the matter himself.

While officers were searching for a red pickup truck, there was a report at 10:15 p.m. of shots fired near 25th and Ohio streets.

Phyllis Mosby, 2814 W. 20th St., said she and her son were on the parking lot of Prairier Junior High School while her son was practicing driving and parking their car when loud noises were heard. They checked their auto and discovered a bullet had passed through the right front headlight and exited through the right front quarter-panel of their auto.

Officers went to Pigg's home where they found the pickup truck and talked to Pigg. They were allowed to enter his home and alleged finding a spent shell and a live shell on his bed and a 30-30 caliber rifle under the bed.

The case was presented to the Madison County state's attorney's warrant office Friday which authorized the three misdemeanor charges against Pigg.

STRIKES FIRE ESCAPE

William J. Smith, 4241 Division St., sustained injuries at 1:25 a.m. Sunday when his camper truck struck a fire escape at the rear of Ken's Lounge, 1528 E. 20th St., and the structure fell on top of the vehicle. Smith declined medical treatment. Police said a wrecker unit was called to remove the fire escape from on top of the truck.

CHAMPAIGN — A third place game with special meaning.

That was the case here Saturday night as Collinsville, fueled in its attempt to return the state championship to Southern Illinois when it lost to Lockport 55-53.

But Fletcher's dream of a third state title was not to be. The Kahoks battled from behind all afternoon, but couldn't get the ball to bounce their way enough times and dropped the decision to eventual-champ Lockport.

The third place game was Collinsville from start to finish. "I think we were a little loser in this one," said Fletcher afterwards.

The Lockport game was a real pressure-type ball game between two fine teams. "When two teams are as evenly matched as we were, the outcome depends on who the ball bounces for the most."

any ankles. We talked about it at halftime, saying we had one more half of basketball to play, so let's go out and play hard."

When asked if he would be back coaching Collinsville next year, Fletcher replied: "As far as I know. But I do know that I'm going to rest for a few weeks."

It has been speculated this was Fletcher's last state championship opportunity, since all the starters on the team which ended the season at 23-3 are all seniors. But maybe this isn't the last hurrah after all.

season," said Fletcher. "There's a sophomore, Bill Mosier, who's 6-4 and should be 6-9 in a couple of years. Gary Kerkemeyer (a junior) is 6-6 now and should be about 6-8 by next season."

"That's not a bad nucleus to start with," STALLINGS, who plans to visit the University of Cincinnati in the spring but "doesn't know where else," came out smoking in the opening quarter against Rockford East. The passing-master hit six straight shots and scored 12 points in the first half that ended 56-21.

STALLINGS' teammate, 6-7 John Belobrydic, set a single-game rebounding record in the third place contest by ripping off 24 caroms, breaking the record of 21 set in 1970 by the late Owen Brown of state champion LaGrange Lyons and equaled in 1973 by Lincoln (Ill.) star Norm Cook.

Belobrydic scored 32 points (the also scored 32 Friday against New Trier West).

STALLINGS ended his final game with 25 points.

The 96 points scored by the Kahoks was also a record for the most points scored in a third-place game. The old mark was set by Quincy in 1962. They scored an 85-43 third-place win over McLeanboro.

KE JOHNSON, the coach of Rockford East, said, "The game this afternoon (a 60-56 semifinal loss to Westchester St. Joseph) took it out of us."

The E-Rabs were paced by junior forward John Griffin's game-high of 33 points.

"I JUST TOLD THE guys at half to go out there and play like we do in practice," Fletcher said.

"This afternoon was the pressure game. Tonight was the type where you just go out and have fun."

The coach pointed out two visitors in the post-game press conference. "Two of my favorite people are standing back there," he said pointing. "My son Mark will be a senior at Tulane next year and Mike is a lawyer in Memphis."

They had just witnessed their father's 792nd win against just 171 losses in a career that began with stops in Mt. Pulaski and Pana before it moved to Collinsville after World War II. "That is, 792 wins and," as far as I know, still counting.

Lockport (33-0) romps to crown

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
CHAMPAIGN — They yell at each other, they fight among themselves, their coach screams at them and they scream back. But they're the undefeated champions of Illinois. The Lockport Central Porters, doing nothing to embarrass Collinsville coach Vergil

Fletcher, who said before tip off they'd be "the next state champs," the men from the southwest Chicago suburb proved Fletcher right with a 64-37 Class AA championship game win over Westchester St. Joseph before 14,000 onlookers in the University of Illinois Assembly Hall Saturday night.

IN RETURNING the Class AA state championship to Chicagoland — Peoria Central won it last year — Coach Bob Basarick's patient Porters became only the ninth team to give the state crown with a perfect record. Their 33-0 record matches the mark of the last perfect champs, the Quin Buckner-led Thornridge Titans of 1972.

To observe the Porters at work is to look at a high school version of the old Marquette University teams of Al McGuire. The Marquette Indians were known for bagging on themselves and with their coach. But in spite of it all were known as one of the greatest powerhouses in college basketball history. Perhaps Lockport is on to something.

A TEAM that frequently does just enough to win — they beat previously unbeaten St.

Laurence by one point in their sectional opener, won by four a couple nights later, settled for a six-point win over Ottawa in Friday's semifinals and edged Collinsville 55-53 just eight hours before the title game — the Porters were diplomatic enough to give St. Joseph a measure of self-respect.

The Chargers, who closed with a 21-2 record, trailed 42-25 midway through the third quarter and looked ready to be blown out. But Lockport saved its killer instinct and allowed a flurry that closed the gap to nine points early in the fourth quarter before asserting itself on an 11-4 tear the last four minutes.

The score was 53-43 in favor of Lockport with four minutes left when all doubt of the outcome was removed. St. Joseph center Tyrone Brewer, distressed over an out-of-bounds call, waved his hand in disgust and when he was called for a personal foul seconds later, he was slapped with a technical foul. LOCKPORT'S Scott Parzych made both ends of the one-and-one situation and converted the technical foul after which Porter Gary Harbeaud's follow-up basket completed a five-point play to establish a 58-43 command with three and half minutes remaining.

Linhart, Martinez on Illinois State roster

The Illinois State University baseball Redbirds have announced their 25-player roster for the spring schedule.

Both former Warriors are seniors and returning lettermen. Martinez returns as the only Redbird from last season to hit over 300. Collectively, ISU hit 248 last season. Linhart is a two-year letterman.

"This is a veteran team," said ISU coach Duffy Bass. "I've never been one to make big predictions, but if we perform up to our potential, we could be a good ball club."

ISU posted a 9-2 fall season record, reason enough to make Bass optimistic.

Three standout members of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team have been invited to try out for the United States Olympic B team in trials scheduled to be held the next five days at Winter Park, Fla.

The Cougar kickers are Don Ebert, striker, Bob Bozada, midfielder, and Jim Clark, full back and halfback. All three of the SIUE soccer stars are freshmen and played key roles in the Cougars' third-place finish in the NCAA Division One (big schools) championship finals early in December at Berkeley, Calif. Ebert was the Cougars' 1977 top scorer with 14 goals.

In all, 22 young players (high school and college) have been selected to try out for the U.S. Olympic B team. From that field, 16 players will be selected to represent the U.S. in an eight-team tournament starting March 23 at Bellinzona, Switzerland.

Hockey tourney contests include consolation win

In the Granite City Amateur Hockey Association tournament at the Wilson Park ice rink Sunday, Delta of Chesterfield, Mo., scored a 2-0 victory over Webster Groves to win the Mite Division championship match.

Bethel wins Baptist

The Madison County Baptist Association's annual men's basketball tournament concluded Saturday night with Bethel Baptist of Troy defeating Calvary Baptist 86-79 for the championship.

In a consolation semifinal won by Mitchell Baptist 98-63 over Suburban, the victors' Mike Waldo scored a tournament-record 51 points. Mitchell went on to take the consolation title 89-74 over

Lincoln wins GC North girls' basketball regional

GRANITE CITY — East St. Louis Lincoln had little trouble last week in winning the Granite City North girls' basketball regional.

They blasted the host Steelerettes in the first game and downed cross-town rival East St. Louis Senior 57-42 in the title game Thursday night.

Lincoln moves on to the Edwardsville Sectional which begins tonight at 7:30. They will face Centralia in the first game. In the other game tonight, Belleville West will play Brussels at about 9 o'clock.

Lincoln has reeled off 14 straight wins and has compiled a 21-2 win-loss record. Centralia's Lady Orphans stand at 14-8. West's record is 12-8 and Brussels is 14-5. The winners of tonight's two games will meet for the championship Wednesday night at 7:30.

RETURNING LETTERMEN — The four returning lettermen for Granite City South's baseball Warriors this season are (l-r): Tom Hennrich, Larry Heagy, Tom Mahl and Dan Schaus.

Play ball! . . .

South's Warriors are ready . . . but nature needs to cooperate

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY — Today at 5:30 p.m. marked the beginning of spring. That's a welcome sign to most everybody after the long, hard winter, but it's also a bit frustrating to a few.

Those few are the high school baseball coaches who must try to get a schedule of games in between all the spring-shower wash outs.

The melting of the heavy snow last week forced an early postponement of all of Granite City North's games this week. The Steelers were originally set to open tomorrow afternoon at home against Breese Mater Dei.

Granite City South's home doubleheader today with Freeport which was to have started at noon, has also been washed out. However, as of presstime today, South's games the rest of this week were still on.

"We've lost an awful lot from last year," said South coach

"Babe" Champion. "We just have four returning lettermen (Larry Heagy, Dan Schaus, Tom Mahl and Tom Hennrich) and just 11 seniors on the entire squad. But we've got 22 juniors."

South will have a hard time matching last season's performance. The Warriors finished the season with a 23-7 record in a season that ended prematurely at the hands of Edwardsville in the GCHS South District Tournament.

Gone from that team are pitchers John Lakin (to SIUE), Paul Evans, catcher Keith Champions (Babe's son-to-SIUE) and infielder-pitcher Eldon Warfield (to SIUE) to name just a few.

But Champion feels he has a good nucleus upon which to build a contender.

South will feature a pitching corps this season with only three seniors, Tim Kirksey, Tom Mahl and Brian Meehan.

Mahl is a returning letterman. THERE ARE NO left-handers on the South pitching lineup. "It must be something in the water," joked Champion. "We've done everything we could in the past to try and get some of our guys to pitch left-handed, but we've never been able to pull it off."

The catching prospects are headed by Tony Elliott, a 5-11, 180 pound senior who was lodged behind Champion and Dan Stanton last season in the role behind the plate. Other receiving prospects are Heagy, a senior and Bill Dallas, a junior.

BUT ELLIOTT may see more action in the hot box-third base — than behind the plate early in the season. The reason is 1) he's the best third baseman the Warriors have right now and 2) he has developed some soreness in his throwing arm and will probably have to let it rest before he tries to gun runners down at second.

The center of the infield will be anchored down by Mr. Reliable Tom Hennrich, who can play well at either second or shortstop. He was considered to be one of the top second basemen in the area as a junior last season.

"Tommy should also be our best hitter, game in and game out," said Champion. He led the team in batting last year.

WITH THE POOR WEATHER, South has found good use for its "new toy," a batting cage, which allows the team to practice pitching off of a mound and take batting practice indoors.

Champion is optimistic about the upcoming season. "It should be very interesting," he said. "Especially at the beginning when we're (the coaching staff) looking at some of the more 'open' positions to see just who'll fit in where."

"It's hard to get games in during this time of the year," he added. "But we've been practicing indoors long enough. We need to get out and get some actual game experience. We're ready for that."

"I HOPE the weather man cooperates."

Champion, who has been coaching at South for 11 years, feels that his outfielders (especially centerfield) could be the strongest one he's ever had.

"We've got four of the best centerfielders I think I've ever seen since I've been here."

Those centerfielders are Mike DeGonia, Patrick Hogan, Jeff Vaughn and Blake Ambuehl.

So, South's ready for baseball. The question is, "Is the weather man ready to cooperate?"

AAU Freestyle wrestling tournament scheduled

MORGANFIELD, KY. — The Tenth Annual Tri-State Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) Freestyle Wrestling Tournament will be held at the Singer Breckinridge Job Corps Center March 31 and April 1.

The meet drew over 100 participants last year from Kentucky, Illinois, Tennessee, Indiana and Missouri, according to Rob Rupsch, supervisor of sports at the 2,600 student manpower training center.

Rupsch said the event will be an open tournament with entries limited to the first 120 to register and that A.A.U. Olympic wrestling rules will prevail.

Olympic A.A.U. rule interpretation sessions will be held at 6 p.m. on March 31 and at 9:30 a.m. April 1. All participants are urged to attend.

Each contestant must hold a current A.A.U. entry card which may be purchased at the meet for $3.

Wrestling attire must conform to national A.A.U. rules, Rupsch said.

Weight classes are 105 and one-half, 114 and one-half, 125 and one-half, 136 and one-half, 149 and one-half, 160 pounds, 180 and one-half, 195 pounds, 220 pounds, and "unlimited" for those weighing in over 220 pound.

The entry fee of $4 may be mailed before March 27 to Robert R. Rupsch, Breckinridge Job Corps Center, Morganfield, KY., 42437.

New disco series at 'Y'

The Tri-City Area YMCA will conduct a new series of disco dance lessons starting Wednesday, March 29. The class will be held in the "Y" auditorium from 7 to 9 p.m. for four consecutive Wednesdays.

Marilyn Vosey will instruct in body language and will teach dances such as the hesitation, hustle, "Chicago hustle" and "Chocolate City" hustle. The cost is $10 for members and $15 for non-members.

She will also be teaching a swing dance class from 9 to 10 p.m. on Wednesdays beginning the same night.

Her imperial lessons will be limited to partners only, with a minimum amount required to conduct the class. The cost of the swing class is $8 for members and $12 for non-members.

If Wednesday night is impossible, or one would prefer a Sunday evening course, the "Y" is "where it's at." Beverly Carter will instruct the Sunday class from 6:30 to 8:30 beginning April 2.

The course will meet four consecutive Sundays. Cost is $10 for members and $15 for non-members. Pre-registration may be obtained by contacting the "Y" at 876-7200 on a first-come, first-served basis.

SIUE meet cancelled

The first outdoor track meet on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville schedule has been cancelled.

SIUE Coach Jack Whitted announced today.

"Said Whitted: "We were scheduled to open next Thursday at Bloomington against Illinois Wesleyan U. They called and said the winter weather has made their field unfit for competition. We regret it because we have had a good series going against Wesleyan."

Consequently, the Cougars' track and field team will make its home debut Saturday, March 25 at its own facility in Edwardsville with Marquette University of Milwaukee, Wis., in a meet starting at 10 a.m.

Each child must bring his or her own container in which to gather the eggs, Brown said.

5 rivals for Democratic nomination as sheriff tomorrow

One of the most intensely fought sheriff campaigns in Madison County Democratic primary history will be decided tomorrow.

Most believe the victor will be one of three—former State Police Captain Emil Toffant, whose law enforcement experience greatly exceeds that of any of the candidates; Edward D. "Big Ed" Voumar, the only Alton area candidate; and James L. Estes, former Mitchell area road commissioner who has the endorsement of the county Democratic central committee.

Others in the field of five are Michael R. Vincent, newly reinstated as a dispatcher in the sheriff's Department, and Donald E. Vaughn, Granite City drug store owner.

Estes has experience in law enforcement with the Madison County Sheriff's Department. He notes that the duties of the department are different than other branches of law enforcement.

"The duties of the sheriff's office are to serve the needs of the people of the county in the courts, jails, civil divisions and other capacities as well as enforce the law."

"I will serve the citizens as well as enforce the law," he asserts.

Estes has 16 years' experience with the department as jailer, dispatcher and patrolman, in civil duty and in the transportation of fugitives.

"As a deputy, I was selected to protect President John F. Kennedy during a visit to Madison County," he recalls.

"I know the problems within the department. I have knowledge to eliminate the existing problems, and leadership abilities to improve the sheriff's department to better serve all of the citizens of Madison County."

Estes is a lifelong resident of Madison County. He was raised in the unincorporated area of Mitchell and attended Mitchell grade school and Granite City High School.

"Big Jim" was a combat veteran with the Marine Corps during World War II. He was wounded in action and decorated with a Purple Heart among other commendations.

Following his career in the Pacific Theater, he was transferred to Washington, D.C. Ten years Chouteau Township highway commissioner.

Twenty-one years, volunteer fireman, Mitchell. Estes is a member of the Aina Shrine Temple.

American Legion Post 113, Amvets Post 51, Masonic Lodge 1173, Madison County Police Association, Operating Engineers Local 505, Scottish Rite Body of Southern Illinois, Tri-City Shrine Club and VFW Post 1300.

Toffant has stressed that he would operate the office of sheriff with "professional law enforcement standards—with fairness and objectivity as primary goals."

While an Illinois State Police captain, Toffant, 1334 Fourth St., Madison, retired in 1974, ending a 30-year career in law enforcement. He became a baseball scout for the Cincinnati Reds.

Commander of District 11 since December 1969, he began his career in law enforcement when he joined the Madison police department in 1944. There, he rose to the rank of sergeant.

He was granted a leave of absence from the Madison police to accept an appointment to the Illinois State Police Training Academy in January 1969.

He was appointed to former Gov. Adlai Stevenson's gambling squad and, during the early 1950s, was involved in gambling operations investigation throughout the state, leading to the destruction of more than $1 million worth of slot machines.

Toffant was uncompromising in his attack on organized crime and did much to halt the activities in the East St. Louis area of a gang headed by the late Frank "Buster" Wortman, heavily involved in prostitution and gambling.

The raids conducted under Toffant's leadership were instrumental in the successful closing of organized gambling and prostitution in the entire Madison St. Clair counties area.

"In 1957, I was transferred from District 11 to the central office staff in Springfield as an investigator and was promoted to lieutenant," Toffant relates.

"In 1959, I was then assigned to organize and direct a detective section for the State Police which was known then as the Bureau of Special Investigation."

"It is known as the detective section of District 25 at the present time."

"During my tenure as commander of the detective section, I was involved in the investigation of a number of major crimes. Probably the most important was the investigation and solution of the triple slaying at Starved Rock State Park in LaSalle County in early 1960."

Toffant, during his tenure with the State Police, received numerous letters of commendation, including one from the president of the United States and the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He holds dozens of special commendations for outstanding police work.

Toffant signed his baseball scouting contract in April 1974. Always interested in baseball, he played semi-professional baseball in Wisconsin and had offers from the former New York Giants and Boston Braves.

"I wanted to play off the Reds, but they never made an offer," he said. "I made contact with them through my good friend Pete Rose. Pete is the Reds leftfielder and third baseman."

After declining earlier suggestions that he run for sheriff, while he was still associated with the State Police, the retired district commander threw his hat in the political ring last July.

While never before a candidate for public office, Toffant, 62, is considered a major candidate because of his record in law enforcement.

A former American Steel Foundries employee, he said he initially was asked in 1977 to consider a sheriff candidacy by several police chiefs.

He later agreed to run in return for backing by independent Democrats. Offers of Republican backing were rejected because he is a Democrat.

"In a democratic society, power to nominate candidates rests with the people, but only if they participate. I appeal for the support of each communityman and woman and all voters in every precinct."

"As a career police officer, and lifelong resident of Madison County, I am motivated by a desire to continue to be of service to the community in the field of law enforcement."

Levee break at Gaslight lagoon in auto death of woman

The levee around the sanitary lagoon south of the Gaslight Walk Apartments in Pontoon Beach broke this morning, allowing polluted water and raw sewage to escape into a field near the apartments and threatening some buildings, sources indicated this morning.

The Nameoki Township Highway Department was said to be fighting to block the break and to protect the remainder of the levee.

"We are going to have a real mess out here, if we can't get the break filled in," one worker on the scene said.

The problem area is south of Gaslight Walk Apartments and is just west of the end of Bruene Drive, sources said. The water level in the lagoon is several feet higher than the surrounding field at that point, they added.

Press-Record Staff Photographer Pat Foley reported from the scene that the water was pouring through a break about 20 feet wide in "a good sized waterfall" and the noise of the waterfall could be heard for several blocks.

He said residents of the Village Green Mobile Home Park nearby were beginning to evacuate their mobile homes and a few houses nearby may be endangered in a short time.

Many streets near the north side of the lagoon already are flooded and the water is rising rapidly, he said.

The water level in the lagoon appears to be four to five feet above the surrounding field and the mobile home park, he noted.

A towship truck was on the scene briefly, but did not have any sandbags and left, apparently to try and find some, he stated.

There were no efforts underway at 11:30 a.m. today to halt the water pouring out of the lagoon, he added.

A Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron today told the Press-Record he will refuse to release convicted murders Raymond C. Milenz and Dennis R. Kirksey to Missouri officials until they have been tried in Madison County for the death of Mrs. Mary Ann Gress of Godfrey.

Mrs. Gress was killed when her auto was struck by the auto of Milenz and Kirksey, who were fleeing from police at high speed. They have been charged with murder in that case.

Last week, federal authorities sentenced them to life in prison for kidnapping two Missouri prison guards during an escape last December. The accident which killed Mrs. Gress occurred during that escape.

The federal judge who sentenced them ordered that they be returned to Missouri to finish earlier murder sentences before beginning the federal life sentence.

They were taken from Springfield to the modern St. Clair County Jail at Belleville to be held until their return to Missouri, but Byron intervened, requesting they be returned to Madison County.

After a day-long legal battle Thursday, St. Clair County

Circuit Judge John Hoban reversed his first ruling and ordered the prisoners released to Madison County and they were transferred to the 100-year-old Madison County Jail.

Since the two already are sentenced to consecutive life sentences, some observers feel Byron's reason for fighting to try Milenz and Kirksey is to seek the death penalty, if they are convicted.

Byron said he is not adverse to using the death penalty, but said he would not comment on the possibility of it being recommended in this case.

"We will try to convict them first, and then I will think about what sentence to recommend," Byron told the Press-Record.

Contempt hearing sought by Finish Line operators

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer, Venice Police Chief Ralph D. Brawley and Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron today were served notice that officials of 12 horse race messenger services have requested a hearing in the First District Appellate Court in Chicago where they must show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court.

The legal action is the result of the closings of the Finish Line Express office in Granite City and the resulting closing in Venice, both on the advice of Byron, who ruled horse race messenger services are illegal under state law which forbids gambling. Byron has ruled that an injunction in the Chicago appellate court forbidding officers to take action against messenger services is not binding in this appellate district, which is based in Mount Vernon.

The Granite City office of Finish Line Express then was closed twice and the employee, Queen Ester Dean of East St. Louis, arrested both times and charged with gambling.

The motion also contends Attorney General William Scott should be found in contempt of court for not ordering local officials to desist from closing the Granite City and Venice offices.

Purse stolen

A purse was stolen, a television set broken and obscene words were written with lipstick on the front door and storm door at the home of Nancy Reutzel, 2432 Dewey Ave., it was discovered at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Entry was believed gained through the rear door. The window in the door had been broken during a disturbance at the home Saturday and had not been repaired when the burglary occurred.

A witness saw two persons, who may have been women, near the rear door about 6 p.m. Sunday who left the scene in a late-model white over maroon auto with opera windows. One had shoulder-length blonde hair and the other had a pink towel around her hair.

SHOTGUN STOLEN
Paul K. Ashcraft, 2007 Missouri Ave., reported at 11:50 p.m. Friday that his home was entered and a shotgun stolen from the bedroom. Nothing else was disturbed or is missing, he told police.

Maybe you don't make a $3,000 loan every day, but we do.

Actually, that's just a middle-size loan for us these days. We make some for less. And a lot for a lot more.

So we're not a "small-loan" company, but a large loan center. And a good one.

Homeowner loans, too.

When you're after really large amounts, the equity in your home is a valuable asset. You can use that equity to back very sizable loans from us. And that's nice to know.

Next time you want money, whatever the reason, think of us. If you're more com-

Dan Partney vs. Jeff Worthen in District 21

District 21 Madison County Board voting tomorrow pits against each other two who are seeking the Democratic nomination—incumbent Daniel J. Partney, 28, of 2601 Edison Ave., and John "Jeff" Worthen, 24, of 2414 Madison Ave.

Partney, an owner of the Granite Sheet Metal Works and the Mercer and Thomas mortuaries, has served a four-year term in which he has sought to revise bidding procedures as a way of reducing county governmental costs.

Worthen, a bricklayer and member of Local 65, was elected as a commissioner of the Granite City Park District a year ago in his first try for elective office.

He and his wife, the former Miss Cindy Brooks, have been lifelong Granite City residents.

A graduate of Granite City High School, Worthen attended Penn State College, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Belleville Area College, studying business and construction.

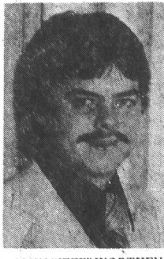

He has been active in park recreational activities all his life, including baseball, volleyball, basketball, flag football and softball. His grandfather, William Milton Worthen, was a charter member of the Granite City Park Board and served as a commissioner for 32 years.

The board candidate declined to debate with the incumbent, and assailed Partney for "personal attacks" against him.

Worthen rejected allegations that he would be a puppet of Local 65 in board voting. He criticized the incumbent for filing suit to force auto repair work to be done by a non-union garage that bid lower than the successful bidder, a union auto agency.

DANIEL J. PARTNEY

He comments, "I and my father are proud to be members of a leading labor organization. My grandfather came to Granite City over 60 years ago and was a 50-year union man and civic leader."

Partney also cites family participation in community and governmental service. His father was mayor from 1965 to 1973 and Daniel Partney was a mayor candidate in 1977.

Both County Board candidates voice opposition to assessing a political "bug" on governmental employees, and both favor improvement of sheriff department services.

Partney favors data processing and tax distribution upgrading. Married and a father, Partney attended Granite City schools and SIU and served in the U.S. Army in Vietnam, earning the Bronze Star Medal, Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Silver Star, Vietnam Armed Forces Honor Medal, Vietnam service and campaign medals and National Defense Medal.

A military adviser to the Vietnamese before being honorably discharged in 1970, he is a past member of Retail Clerks Local 435 and is affiliated with Sheet Metal Workers Local 288.

He believes that his role on the County Board is helpful to the public in countering lack of dissent among board members when considering expense authorizations, contracts and established practices.

Woman, son hurt in auto crash

Mrs. Beverly Partney, 26, of 2601 Edison Ave., and her son, Daniel Partney II, 5, were injured when their auto and the car of Robert Kirschner, St. Louis, collided at Johnson and Nameoki roads, at 1:40 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Partney suffered a cervical strain to her neck and her son bumped his head. Both were released after treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Full-time program for Madison pre-schoolers

Plans to expand the Madison Headstart educational program from a summer program to a full-time program received tentative approval of the Madison Board of Education Thursday night.

The board studied a plan to utilize the Dunbar School Annex in West Madison for a full-time program to help pre-school children prepare for kindergarten.

Board members noted the Annex currently is used only for storage of cafeteria supplies and said the Headstart program would be responsible for improving the building to a condition where classes can be held in it.

Nick Jakich, now head football coach at Madison High School and a teacher in the district, was selected to head the boys' tennis program at the high school.

Action also was taken to prepare for the April school board election as the board hired custodians for the four polling places and approved official ballots, specimen ballots and placards.

A letter was read from the principal of Carlyle High School which commended the Madison basketball players and fans for sportsman-like conduct during a game at Vandallia. The board added its congratulations.

HOUSE BURGLARY

A jewelry box containing miscellaneous jewelry was recovered by Madison County sheriff's deputies late Friday following a break-in at the home of Harold Gunderson, 2311 Morrison Road. The jewelry was found outside the house. Still missing are a ladies' wrist watch, a wall clock and other items valued at a total of $189.

Murk Family Musicale here Thursday

The Murk Family Musicale
will appear in concert at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Nameoki
United Methodist Church, 1700
Pontoon Road, the Rev. Dr.
Max L. Martin, pastor, said today.

The public is being invited to attend the concert, which is being presented as part of the Holy Week program at the church.

Dr. Martin said the Murk
family has been called,
"Chicago's equivalent to the famous Von Trapp singers."
Jim and Donna Murk and their five children have brought the "joy of music with a message to thousands of families for the past 14 years," he said.

They have presented over
3,000 concerts in 49 states,
Canada, Mexico, Israel, Europe and Central and South America.

The children are Beverly
Joanne, 23, Billy Jim, 22, Becky
Joy, 20, Brenda Jan, 19, and Barby Joanne, 17, who have been playing the piano and a stringed instrument since they were between four and six years old.

All are accomplished vocal soloists and are featured together in many combinations of voices and instruments,
including the "singing strings."
The family concerts began when Jim Murk, a former college professor in anthropology and history and a lyric tenor, won the national championship on the Ted Murk

Original Amateur Hour on CBS-TV.

He also had received several honors in music festivals in the Chicago area and was invited to present concerts at Christmas time at a prominent hotel in Miami Beach.

At this time, Murk worked the children into the program and
"they have been stealing the show ever since," the father said.

The Murks have produced 14
LP recordings, been featured on television in many major cities in the United States and Latin America and appeared with in the Billy Graham Crusade in Michigan.

Among their experiences were appearances before members of the U.S. Senate and staffs in Washington, D.C. and at the Pentagon.

One of the highlights of their tours each year has been a visit to other countries of the world serving with missions and missionaries.

Their music can encompass either secular or sacred and from the finest of the classical to the best of the contemporary,

the Nameoki church pastor
said.

MR. AND MRS. LEO D. LONESSE whose wedding was solemnized at Trinity Pentecostal Church of God in Fairview Heights. Formerly Miss Leah Michelle McKinney, the bride is a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph McKinney, 2021 Cleveland Blvd.

Miss Leah McKinney and Leo D. Lonesse are wed

Miss Leah Michelle McKinney, a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph McKinney, 2021 Cleveland Blvd., became the bride of Leo D. Lonesse, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lonesse Sr., of Cahokia, in an evening ceremony on Feb. 24 at Trinity Pentecostal Church of God in Fairview Heights.

Arrangements of rainbow color flowers in tall urns and burning tapers in branched candelabra, provided the setting in the sanctuary for the double ring service performed at 7 o'clock in the evening by the Rev. Charles Jeris, an uncle of the groom.

Preceding the ceremony Alan Bogovich presided at the organ and sang, "Evergreen," "Where Do I Begin," and "You Light Up My Life."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white Empire style Qiana gown featuring long tapered sleeves and a slim A-line skirt. Floral Venise motifs accented the Sweetheart neckline, cuffs of the sleeves and was repeated on the front of the skirt and chapel train.

Her mantilla veil was edged with a silk Venise lace trim and secured to a floral lace headband. She held a bouquet of long stem white roses and greenery festooned with white satin lace ribbons.

Maid of honor Susanne Chernoff selected a formal length pink polyester gown fashioned with a fitted bodice with tiny T-straps over the shoulders and long flowing skirt, complemented with a chiffon caplet bordered with a matching satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Cheryl Hutchins, Kimberly McKinney, a sister of the bride, and Shelly Seibert, chose identically designed gowns in mint green, pastel blue and apricot hues.

Each attendant carried a bouquet similar to the bridal arrangement, with streamers to match their attire, and they wore rings of lily of the valley flowers in the same shade in their hair.

Rene and Rachelle Walker, cousins of the bride, served as flower girls.

Both girls were dressed in white lace over lilac polyester frocks designed with a V-yoke, edged with lace, short puff sleeves and long skirts. They carried wicker baskets filled with multicolor bloncs.

To the groom, the bride was the ringbearer and Janice Lonesse, sister of the groom and Buz McKinney, the bride's brother, served as candlelighters. Miss Lonesse wore a long yellow dress.

Miss Cindy Jeris attended the guest book at a reception given in the church hall immediately following the ceremony.

The groom chose John Pitsch as best man. Groomsmen were Keith Smith, Bud Massey and David Lonesse, a brother of the groom.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Bill Walker, Welton Schermer, cousins of the bride, and Walter Wilson.

A dinner, following the church rehearsal, was given for members of the wedding party and their families in the church fellowship hall.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McKinney selected a floor length pastel blue Qiana gown designed with an Empire bodice, V-neckline and long fitted sleeves. She wore a white rosebud corsage.

Mrs. Lonesse, mother of the groom, was attired in a full length dress created in pale pink polyester with long sleeves and an A-line skirt. She chose a pink carnation corsage.

The bride is a Granite City High School South graduate and her husband was graduated from Cahokia High School.

Eagles Auxiliary initiates

The Eagles Auxiliary initiated three new members, Pearl Stone, Louise Hall and Victoria Gwin at last week's meeting, conducted by Mrs. Phyllis Seika, president. The Granite City Auxiliary Ritual Team, Marge Hall, Alma Sedras, Helen Frazier and Delores Sanders, conducted the ceremony.

Members agreed to sponsor a member for the May rock-a-thon and they also sent a card to Mrs. Florida Batson who is hospitalized.

Mrs. Billie Schuler and Mrs. Judy Holbrook, co-chairmen of the Golden Eagle fund, reported on the sale of aprons, which is currently in progress.

A report on the cancer fund donations was submitted by Mrs. Sanders.

The president appointed Shirley Robinson to serve as conductor for the remaining year, to replace an officer who resigned.

Mrs. Angie Bushler, Mrs. Seka, and Mrs. Nancy Mullen attended a Southern Zone Rally in Springfield, during the weekend, it was noted. After the meeting games were played and prizes awarded to Stella Miller and Mae Amby by the month's hostess, Kathy Reed.

GC Jr. Service Club hosts "probie party"

The Granite City Junior Service Club's annual "probie party" was held in the home of Mrs. Sue Riess, 156 Glenwood Estates, Glen Carbon, last week.

Members and guests were sent invitations made of newspaper wrapped in brown paper bag envelopes requesting they attend "lucky night" festivities, dressed in hobo type clothing.

After a mixer game, "Meet Your Fellow Hobos" members and guests were asked to identify food articles for "meals for the road" which were contained in small jars. Another game was directed by the hostess and then prizes were awarded to Mrs. Beverly King.

best dressed, and to Janet Warren.

Co-chairmen Carolyn Thornburg and Faith Holsinger, Pam Reed, club president, and Mrs. Riess served punch, wedges of ham salad sandwiches, chips, dip, relishes and "dum cake."

A tablecloth of blue denim and red and white polka dots with matching napkins were used with fabric flowers of the same colors, which were arranged in tin cans. The floral bouquets were centered on the table, around the punch bowl, and miniature hobo knapsacks, matching the fabric flowers, were filled with mints and given as favors.

Miss Rebecca Sage will reign as May queen over the traditional May 5 festival at Granite City High School South. Miss Sage, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sage, 2825 Grand Ave., was selected the 1978 May queen in balloting by the student body at South High last week.

Her court will consist of Miss Lisa Crippen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crippen, 3333 Johnson Road, and Miss Diana DeGonia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeGonia, 25 Wilson

Park Drive, first attendants to the queen.

Miss Paula Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Jones, 3005 Indiana Ave., and Miss Elizabeth Ripper, daughter of Mrs. JoAnn Nugent, 3109 Myrtle Ave., and Robert Ripper of St.

Louis, second attendants.

The girls are nominated by the senior class and chosen in balloting by the entire student body.

The May festival traditionally honors the graduating senior girls.

As part of the annual festival, various student organizations will present several dance and musical numbers and also perform plays.

The May program attracts capacity audiences each year.

Mrs. Cheryl Compton and Mrs. Deloris Barker are the junior high vocal instructors.

Eighty students from Granite City North and South high schools will present "Swing Chorus," "Grand Night for Singing," "Psalm 23" and "The Stars Are With the Voyager."

Mrs. Gail Mueller and Mrs. Mary Ann Bright are the high school choral directors.

As the finale, the students will combine voices to sing, "I Believe in Music."

Joseph Owens is music consultant for the Granite City School District and Mrs. Pat Michaeloff is the vocal music specialist.

Concordia Lutheran

Concordia Lutheran Church at 2301 Grand Ave., will observe Holy Week with two special services, one on Thursday and the other one on Friday. The anniversary of the institution of the Last Supper will be celebrated with a Holy Communion Service on Maundy Thursday at 7:30.

The event of Christ's death will be the center of the gradual extinguishing of the lights in the church during the Tenebrae Service on Good Friday at 7:30. Readings, singing and devotions will mark the progress of the darkening of the church, until the worshippers leave the church lighted only by the Christ candle.

The Resurrection of Christ as with the community workshops at the 6 o'clock, Wilson Park Sunrise Service, and then will assemble for the Resurrection Eucharist worship at 10:15 a.m.

"Life, not death, is the final word," will be the topic of the festival sermon by Concordia's pastor, the Rev. Arvin Twilmeyer. Organists during these three services will be Harlan Wentzel and Miss Chris Puent.

Couple honors son on 4th birthday

Mr. and Mrs. William Black Jr., 709C Meadowlane Drive, entertained at their home with a party in honor of their son, William Lee Black III, on his fourth birthday.

A circus theme with prancing horses prevailed throughout the room decorations and party appointments.

Many gifts were presented the honoree. Among the guests were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ross and Mrs. Jewell Black, and his sister, Misty Roxane.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gorline, Mrs. Cherry Dickinson, Miss Della Anoff, Rebecca and Kathy Ross, Mrs. Wanda Hunter and Chris, Monty Jones, Mike Tarasovich and Shawn Hayes.

Circle plans April banquet

The Ladies Morning Circle of Trinity United Methodist Church finalized plans for a mother and daughter banquet to be held on April 25, during a meeting held at the church, last week.

The dinner will be held in the church fellowship hall beginning at 6:30 p.m. and will also feature special entertainment, it was announced.

Mrs. Betty Bryant presented a program on "Life Is What You Make It" following the business segment.

Sixteen members and one guest attended the session. The next meeting is set for 11 a.m. on April 19, at the church.

Mitchell scouts mark 66th anniversary

Girl Scout Week at Mitchell School was observed with a flag and candle ceremony held in the gymnasium with the student body and teachers participating.

A torcheshoe was formed by the Junior and Brownie Girl Scouts as Liane Baker directed the flag bearers to advance. Serving as flag bearers were Cheri Churchwell and Charleen Turner and guards included Michelle Kondrick, Sharon Goucher, Lori McNeely and Brenda Meyer.

All present recited the pledge to the flag and sang the Star Spangled Banner, followed by to scouts reading a Girl Scout law as the leader Georgia Simpson would light a candle. At the end of the ceremony the Girl Scout Promise was given and those attending sang the Brownie Smile Song.

Brownie Priscilla Clements read a proclamation signed by Mayor Paul Schuler, marking Girl Scout Week. Mrs. Williams led the Sunshine Singers in a song to conclude the event.

Illinois No. 1 state in 1978 primaries

By AL MANNING
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

"It's great for an incumbent, isn't it? How can anybody get out and campaign against them?" — A county chairman.

Illinois has the earliest primary of any state in the nation this year.

No other state has a primary until May, and most of them wait until September to nominate candidates.

In addition, candidates in Illinois had to file nominating petitions by Dec. 19, a full six weeks ahead of candidates in any other state.

Many persons have complained about the early primary, but they probably didn't realize Illinois was first because of all the publicity given to the early New Hampshire presidential primary every four years.

New Hampshire schedules its primary first in presidential years for economic reasons.

All of the candidates traveling to that state and the hundreds of volunteer workers and dozens of reporters contribute significantly to that state's economy.

This year, however, candidates in New Hampshire are nominated at a primary Sept. 12.

In fact, 14 states hold primary elections on that date, by far the most popular date.

Following Illinois' early primary are Indiana and North Carolina on May 2. Nine states have primaries in May.

Eleven states hold primaries in June; eight in August; 20 in September; and one, Hawaii, in October.

Of course, all of the general elections are held on the same day in November.

Illinois' requirement that candidates file official nominating petitions 90 days before the primary is also one of the longest lead-in periods of any of the states.

A common deadline is two months before the primary.

In only 13 of the 50 states do candidates have to file petitions in March or before.

In some of the states, they must file in April and in many others they wait until July.

Politically speaking, the early filing period in Illinois is a disadvantage to the challenger.

The filing period favors the incumbent.

First, a person thinking of entering politics in the Prairie State must make an early commitment to the campaign.

The person must decide to run 11 months before the general election, and it's more than a year between the filing date and the taking of the office.

That works as an economic disadvantage to a challenger in many cases, the challenger must take an unsalaried leave of absence from his job or, in some cases, resign. They are sometimes left without an income for the entire length of the campaign.

Obviously, the financial aspect discourages many potential challengers from ever entering politics in the first place.

Few persons, including potential challengers, get fired up about an officeholder that far in advance of the election.

And experienced politicians know the issues often change between the filing date and the close of the campaign.

An incumbent who looks strong in December often does not draw a strong opponent, but where a strong challenger would have defeated an incumbent.

Third, the 11-month-long campaign requires more money to finance the operation.

Many candidates dump money into advertising in the days preceding the primary, but they get little benefit in November for the money spent in March.

Unless it is an exceptional campaign or an emotional appeal of some type, voters are likely to forget the message because it's seven months until the next election.

Thus, candidates must often repeat their message with more expensive advertising.

Candidates who have September primaries get more benefit from the dollars they spend in their primary.

Fourth, the weather works to the advantage of the incumbent.

Many Illinois towns have had a record snowfall and record cold temperatures this winter.

The incumbent almost always has the advantage in terms of name recognition and party support.

"The burden is on the challenger to go out and get known, to recruit volunteers and spark some interest in the campaign."

That's very difficult to do in this weather. It takes a dedicated volunteer to trudge door-to-door in the snow, and citizens certainly can't be blamed for paying more attention to the weather forecasts than to the politicians.

A spring or late summer primary would put primaries in a much different focus. The weather is what prompted the county chairman into talking about the incumbents' advantage as quoted above.

If the early primary is such a burden as expressed here, why does Illinois have it?

There are several reasons. Many politicians would like to change it, but they can't agree on a new date. They rule out June because that's the end of the legislative session.

And they don't like September because every four years they would have to do something extra about choosing delegates to the national conventions.

In addition, election authorities like the long lead time because it gives them longer to print the ballots and perform the other necessary chores in administering the election.

Also, politicians say the long period between the primary and the general elections allows words to heal from bitter primary fights.

We suspect the real reason for the early primary, however, is the fact the incumbents are less likely to be defeated. The Chicago Democratic machine can control the nominations better in March than they can later in the year.

Stress image and reality of sound construction policies, Shaw urges

The current image of this region is that it is "truly alive," and a new labor-management education program called by "IMAGE" holds the key for a prosperous decade ahead and an even more promising life for the turn of the century.

This is the view of Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, he said Thursday afternoon.

IMAGE (Involvement and Management) was launched at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville with representatives of more than 40 labor and management groups signing a memorandum of understanding of the program guidelines — designed to promote growth and understanding of the construction industry and enhance the economy of the area.

"The memorandum of understanding is an excellent first step," Dr. Shaw said. "Now we must make it work."

"We must emphasize that we are involved in something more than just a public relations gesture. The image that we project of this region must be founded on a bedrock of reality."

The university president emphasized a "strong bond of partnership" needed between management, labor and education as discussed at the meeting.

"The region is 'laid rich,' with many existing and planned industrial parks."

"The area has abundant transportation assets, including the second largest rail center in the nation."

"Attractive port facilities are in place, and with a strong push, we can bring the Lock and Dam 26 project to completion."

"Available raw materials put the region in the 'cat bird seat,' with the richest coal reserves in the nation and plenty of good water; and

"An abundant labor supply offers the potential for real growth in the area," he said.

Suggesting a "dynamic partnership based on a full appreciation of our many blessings and a mutual confidence that cooperation can produce solid understanding," Dr. Shaw offered suggestions for "working together in enlightened self-interest."

The president said a satisfied labor force is interested not only in security but in opportunities for involvement in decision-making, profit-sharing and professional and personal growth.

"Based on security, let's also provide incentives that will assure workers that they will share in the rewards of above-average work, the kind of work that means better production," he said.

"IMAGE is out to create jobs, as many as we can," Dr. Shaw continued. "Let's also insure that these jobs will be as attractive and as satisfying as we can."

A sound business climate is also vital, Dr. Shaw said.

"Our products must be competitive; and when we finally find our way to the bottom line, we've got to show a profit."

"That means that labor will sometimes have to forego an immediate increase in financial gains on some occasions. We all have to look at the long pull, and sometimes the best interests of industry and the region will pull against big wage increases."

The president cautioned that "major differences will come time to erupt at contract time" and, he warned, "how we resolve the conflict will be the acid test of our determination and good faith in this new venture."

Pointing to "many areas of genuinely common interest," Dr. Shaw said they should be exploited.

"All of us benefit when transportation facilities are improved," he said. "Improved railway switching in East St. Louis will make the Tri-City Port more efficient."

"Not only will the new Lock and Dam at Alton be a source of many construction jobs immediately, but its long-term benefits in smoothing the flow of goods and materials in and out of the region, up and down the river, are spectacular."

The SIUE president urged a regional lobby in the legislature and Congress.

"Wouldn't we have some clout if business, labor and education combined forces to lobby in Springfield and Washington for things of mutual interest?" he asked.

"In a short time, we could give Chicago lessons in using the system."

The SIUE president also cited the importance of "an improved quality of life in the region.

"Good hospitals, efficient services, strong education at all levels, and a vibrant cultural life are indispensable if we are to attract new firms and if existing firms are to stay."

Dr. Shaw suggested that the university can be used as an immediate resource through a broad range of services — through consulting, direct instruction, and in-service training programs.

"In these and many other ways, we will be discovering together in the future as IMAGE does its work, adding to the quality of life in both an economic and spiritual sense."

"Working together means keeping communications open. Communications that are truly effective mean that self-interest does stay enlightened. Enlightenment leads us to do the best for all in the long run."

County board names safety coordinator

Mrs. Rita J. Keene of Collinsville has been hired by the Madison County Board as the county's first safety coordinator.

Mrs. Keene leaves the Illinois Department of Transportation Fairview Heights office where she is a safety engineer technician.

In her new full-time position for the county, she will be responsible for all of the township's insurance and claims, establishing safety policies and training, investigating accidents, conducting safety inspections, and other related duties.

She will be paid $14,000 per year through Nov. 30, at which time her salary and job performance will be reviewed along with other board appointed department heads.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer of Granite City, in announcing the appointment, noted 33 persons are applied for the job and 12 had been interviewed.

"I think she will do a fine job and is well qualified. I believe this office will pay for itself time and time again in reduced insurance premiums and fewer employee injuries," he added.

She will be under the direct control of Hagauer and his administrative assistant, rather than under a county board committee.

FACES TWO CHARGES

Jeffery R. Sedabres, 22, of 2427 E. 25th St., was charged with disorderly conduct and criminal damage to property after a disturbance at his home at 9:45 p.m. Thursday. It is alleged he damaged several items in the home and struck Glenda Vinton, 27. He was arrested 15 minutes later at a nearby tavern.

VOTE FOR STEVE MARAGIDES — MARCH 21, 1978 DEMOCRATIC TICKET

4 seek 2 nominations for single circuit judge position

Ballot rivalry — that is being called a test of Madison County voters' maturity — will decide this year who is to serve as a judge of the Third Circuit.

Bar Association members recommend incumbent Circuit Judge A. A. "Andy" Matoesian, Granite City Democrat, and Attorney Gerald Cohn, Alton Republican.

The Bar members voted against the candidacies of Associate Judge William E. Johnson, Glen Carbon Democrat, and Roland W. Griffith Jr., Alton Republican, the latter state's attorney of Madison County from 1968 to 1972.

Primary voting will take place Tuesday, March 21. The two parties' nominees will meet in the general election in November.

A six-year term is to be decided. Under the Illinois Constitution, after initial partisan selection by a majority vote, judges seek retention for subsequent terms without opposition, requiring a 60 percent favorable vote.

Judge Matoesian was appointed in September to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Circuit Judge John Gitchco.

He served as an associate judge 12 years before the appointment.

Matoesian said he must deal within the political process until the primary election, but intends to be as non-partisan as possible if elected.

He cites U.S. Supreme Court Rule 61 which states, "A judge should not be swayed by partisan demands, public clamor, consideration of personal popularity or notoriety, nor permit fear or unjust criticism to influence his judicial action."

"I have always followed this rule in the past and shall continue to do so in the future," Matoesian said.

He is a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, where he received his LL.B. and juris doctor law degrees.

He was born and reared in Granite City. He and his wife have two children.

He is a member of the American Bar Association, Illinois State Bar Association, Madison County Bar Association and Tri-City Bar Association.

He believes his 12 years as an associate judge enabled him to perform well from the start of his new duties.

The Supreme Court unanimously named Matoesian, 40, of 2836 State St., as a circuit judge in the Third Judicial Circuit Court of Madison and Bond Counties.

The appointment filled a vacancy created by the resignation last summer of Circuit Judge John Gitchco to return to private law practice.

Matoesian will serve until a judge is elected in November 1978.

Matoesian believes he had the support of many of the circuit judges in this circuit as well as the support of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Goldenhersh of Belleville.

Johnson says that "on Nov. 18, I appeared before the Democratic Party for support for the Democratic nomination for circuit judge."

"I was running because I thought I was qualified and had faithfully, honestly and impartially served the people of Madison County as an associate judge. There were other qualified candidates present: Judge John Day and Attorney William Brandt."

"All candidates were invited to state their qualifications and to answer questions from the group. I had appeared four years before and was not selected, but I appeared again because I wanted to be heard by all the people in this county."

The members of the committee were Democratic mayors of Madison County and township committee chairmen. The committeemen were representatives of their neighborhoods and the mayors represented their cities.

"As I recall our history, this appeared to be democracy in action — the New England Town Hall, and Continental Congress representative government."

"A large group of people with input from all areas of Madison County questioned me about my qualifications and views on the death penalty, narcotics, crime and other questions concerning a judge's duties."

"They knew I was tough on crime, that I would represent all of the people and show no favoritism to special interest groups."

"I was also asked if I could contribute a fair share for conducting a campaign to further the principles and philosophy of the Democratic Party, which must be a public disclosure to the state."

"I was selected in a democratic manner from representatives of the people of Madison County and the mayors."

"Unless my early training in American government was misguided, I believe that democracy means standing before the people or their representatives for their approval, and not to be selected by one or two lawyers, or judges, or a small group that may have an axe to grind or obligation to make."

"The procedure is similar to a jury which, as representatives of the people in the county, hears the facts and, after deliberations, render the decision. This is the American way."

"As a candidate for all the people, I wish to ask all voters to pass on my qualification."

Johnson, 47, was appointed one of the four magistrates in the circuit in 1965 and served as magistrate and associate judge nearly 12 years.

He served in every division, including juvenile, family court, civil and jury trial, and has been assigned to judge cases at various times in Granite City, Madison, Venice, Alton, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Highland and Wood River. In 1970, he was the county's chief magistrate.

He was born on a farm and his father was a coal miner. His wife teaches in the Collinsville public schools and they have two daughters.

Johnson worked his way through college during a period of 12 years, graduating from St. Louis University Law School. He attended Blackburn College, Shurtleff College, Southern Illinois University and Washington University.

He has worked as a coal miner, sheet steel worker, Owens-Illinois glass worker, traffic manager, adjuster, Army paratrooper and teacher of business law at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Johnson says he feels he has been outspoken for judicial reforms and instrumental in equalizing the status of downstate and Cook County judges.

He advocates a mandatory jail sentence on a point system for convicted criminals and has initiated innovations and time-saving methods for the judicial system, he feels.

"I have geared my whole life and profession to the judicial position — spending my vacation funds and using my vacation time for a previous campaign."

"I have always maintained a listed telephone number, answering the need and calls and performing services for the citizens all over the county at my own expense."

Griffith served as state's attorney of Madison County in 1969-72.

He has been a practicing lawyer, with offices in the City of Alton, for over 23 years. A lifelong resident of Madison County, he resides in Alton with his wife and four children.

Griffith graduated from the University of Illinois and received his juris doctor degree from Northwestern University Law School.

He is a member of the Alton-Wood River Bar Association, of which he is a past president, and the Madison County, Illinois, American Bar and American Trial Lawyers Bar Associations.

He has been a member of the American Legion, Kiwanis, and First Presbyterian Church of Alton, and is active in many civic groups. He is a Navy veteran of World War II.

Griffith comments, "The solution to the problem of crime in Madison County demands a fourfold effort among the citizens, the police, the state's attorney and the courts."

"Before the court, or judge, can do anything to decrease crime in the county, crimes must be brought to the attention of the police or other law enforcement agency. The police must then apprehend the guilty party and he must be prosecuted successfully by the state's attorney."

"Then, and only then, can the court participate in the elimination of the crime problem. Too often, in the past, the courts have been used as the 'revolving door' through which convicted criminals have been allowed to return to the streets, there to continue to prey on the innocent citizenry."

"As a judge, I could best serve to decrease crime in Madison County by recognizing the reality of that situation and, utilizing my experience gained while serving as state's attorney, helping to restore a common-sense approach to sentencing, ridding the streets of that segment of our society which constantly preys the honest citizenry."

"While I cannot say that I will sentence every person convicted of crime to prison, I believe that probation should be granted only in those cases where the overwhelming preponderance of available information indicates that the person deserves leniency and that, if granted, it will not be abused."

Cohn has had many years of activity in Republican campaigns and projects, including: Delegate and precinct committeeman, 1975-76; delegate, Republican national convention, 1976; delegate, state convention 1974 and 1976;

and coordinator; Thompson for Governor, 1976.

President of the Bethalto Chamber of Commerce in 1977-1978, he has served as chairman of local government affairs, Wood River Township Chamber of Commerce; member of Lewis and Clark Community College Foundation; member of the American Legion; Veterans of Foreign Wars certificate of merit recipient; and director and vice-president of the Bethalto Rotary.

Cohn says, "It is not enough to want law and order — your judge must have legal ability which only comes from experience and legal knowledge to accomplish swift and certain justice."

"Six years as Assistant Attorney General, six years of prosecuting experience for the State of Illinois and ten years of private practice have given me an insight into criminal justice operations from both sides of the system."

Cohn resides with his wife and two children in Bethalto. He received his B.A. from Illinois College in Jacksonville, and his doctor of law from the University of Chicago.

Cohn is a member of the American Bar Association, Illinois State Bar Association membership committee and judicial advisory committee, Madison County Bar Association (president in 1973); American Trial Lawyers Association and American Judicature Society.

He served as an assistant attorney general for Illinois in 1970-1976 and has taught criminology and constitutional law for police officers at Lewis and Clark Community College.

Cohn comments, "During the course of a year, $3,000 cases are initiated in the Madison County Circuit Court. Of this number, 800 will be major civil jury cases involving literally millions of dollars."

"Approximately 1,000 will be criminal felony cases involving charges of murder, rape, armed robbery, burglary, etc. The balance will be traffic cases, small claims, tax, probate and family matters."

"Although Madison County ranks fifth in population in the state, for the past three years it has been the No. 1 county outside of Cook County in the number of civil jury trials."

"Of the $3,000 cases that are initiated, most will be disposed of and completed during the year in which they are initiated."

"Put in the simplest terms, backlog can be reduced by electing the best qualified judges. It stands to reason that if a judge knowledgeable in many areas of the law, he will be able to dispose of a large number of matters effectively, accurately and properly."

"Judges, like all people, tend to put aside things and matters that are unfamiliar to them, hoping that by some magic they will solve themselves or that the matter will be settled by the respective parties."

"This is usually not the case, and the effective, hardworking judge will move the matter toward a conclusion with more rapidly."

WILL YOU BE "WATCHING"?

National Energy Watch is a new program for the conservation and wise use of electric energy. It is supported by Illinois Power Company and other electric utilities throughout the U.S.

The National Energy Watch program will help all of us conserve electric energy in three meaningful ways.

One—it provides definite standards for upgrading your home to save energy. Two—it provides guidelines for installing energy-efficient appliances, or setting more efficiency from the appliances you have. And third—the National Energy Watch program provides solid advice on how to use electric energy in the most efficient way.

IP ILLINOIS POWER

What's in it for you?

Plenty. As a participant in the National Energy Watch, you'll get more comfort, more performance, more efficiency from the dollars you pay for energy. You'll be helping our nation cope with the energy problem. And you'll be helping to assure adequate energy for your children's generation.

For information on how you can benefit from National Energy Watch, call or visit our Energy Use Advisor.

Illinois Bell says '77 was 'year of progress'

Illinois Bell President Charles Marshall said Thursday that 1977 was "a year of substantial progress" for the company.

Marshall reported in the company's 1977 annual report that long distance calling in Illinois increased 9.3 percent over 1976 levels. Total telephone service grew 5.1 percent. Net income totaled $231.3 million.

"In 1977 we achieved substantial economies through cost control programs and productivity improvements, a fact reflected in our improved earnings," Marshall said.

"But even though they have improved, they are still too low to keep us competitive in the capital markets. And by year-end they were eroding beneath the relentless pressures of today's inflation."

The number of telephone lines served per employee rose to 210, up nearly 30 percent since 1973, the report said.

Among other cost control measures, the report cited energy conservation programs which have cut the rate of energy usage by more than 25 percent since 1973. In 1977 alone, these programs saved the equivalent of 30,000 barrels of oil.

New three-year contracts were negotiated with unions representing some 25,400 employees. Total employment dropped by 100 employees during the year to 37,217, but employee compensation rose $59.4 million to $876.9 million. The report said Illinois Bell spent $41.8 million on construction in 1977 for projects including 14 new electronic switching systems to complete customer calls and a new traffic service position system which brought "Zero-plus" long distance calling to outstate Illinois communities including Rockford and Peoria.

Among the year's technological and marketing innovations, the annual report featured these:

The opening of 39 PhoneCenter Stores where residence customers can shop in person and carry home the plug-in telephones of their choice.

The trial in Chicago of the world's first full-service lightwave communications system, carrying customer voice, computer and video signals on beams of light through hair-thin glass fibers.

The start of construction for the first high capacity mobile telecommunications system for car telephones.

"If there is a single word which captures the flavor of the times ahead, the word is 'choices,'" Marshall said. "We will work continuously to expand the range of choices available to telephone users, and to base our rates more directly on the costs of providing the service which individual customers choose."

Ask to delay any new law on student testing

The State Board of Education, meeting in Chicago, has approved a resolution urging Congress and the Illinois General Assembly to withhold action for two years on legislation dealing with testing of students for minimal academic competency.

The board directed Superintendent Joseph Cronin to draft legislation encouraging school districts to establish voluntary competency testing programs of their own.

The legislation would provide them with assistance from the Illinois Office of Education (IOE).

Bills have been introduced in both legislative bodies—but not passed—requiring that students demonstrate a mastery of certain academic skills before being allowed to graduate.

Board members called for fuller study of the issue in order to solve in advance the problems encountered by other states in the area of competency testing.

After two years, the board would report back to the General Assembly on the results of local-level testing, IOE's policy study of the issue, and IOE recommendations.

Also at the mid-March meeting, Gov. Thompson addressed the board to explain his recommendation for a $103 million increase in funding for elementary and secondary education in the July 1978-June 1979 fiscal year.

Thompson asked for the board's continuing advice and counsel during the 1978 legislative session, especially on legislation dealing with special education and state funds for economically disadvantaged children. And asked for another meeting with the board to discuss these matters.

In other business, the board voted on its legislative package for 1978-79. Primary among the bills to be introduced in the Assembly this year is a proposal dealing with revision of the resource equalizer formula. The revision would:

1) Increase the maximum amount of aid a school district received for each student from $1,200 to $1,300 per year.

2) Reduce the qualifying tax rates to enable more districts to gain access to the maximum amount of state aid.

3) Change the annual increase limit on state aid for a school district from 125 to 135 percent.

Other legislative proposals provide for funding for general state aid, teacher's retirement, career education centers and special education construction, among others.

The board adopted a "sunset" resolution to apply to all mandated programs, guidelines and rules and regulations established by the IOE.

The board directed that these programs be reviewed periodically to determine their need and effectiveness. Where a program is no longer necessary, it is to be discontinued.

Finally, Supt. Cronin reported that the IOE has made significant progress toward achieving the State Board's goal of simplifying reporting systems among the IOE, the State Board and local school districts.

Since January 1977, 282 forms have been eliminated and are no longer in use by the agency. Also, the number of forms used to collect data from school districts has been reduced to 138, Dr. Cronin said.
